

Segmentation – Selections with a 'Today' date Expression

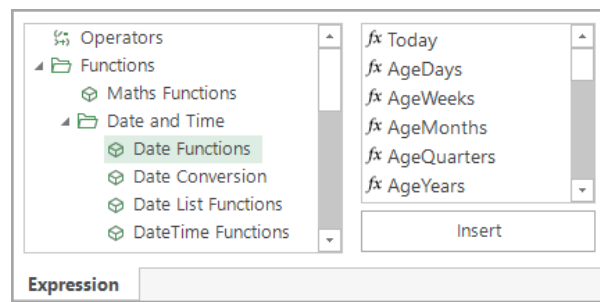

2018 Q4

Summary

The Segmentation tool now supports expressions within selections that contain a Today date reference

Previously, expressions within selections that use functions which, explicitly or implicitly, reference today's date could not be translated to different time points within the Segmentation tool.

This included, for example, Today, AgeX, and some variations of the DateDiff() functions.

Such references are now supported.
